

REVOLUTIONARY BATTLES

Experience America's Roads to Independence

By SAL LILIENTHAL

REVOLUTIONARY BATTLES

Experience America's Roads to Independence

25 Battlefield Tours connecting Hundreds of Revolutionary War Sites from Quebec, Canada to Savannah, Georgia.

25 Tours ★ 1000 Miles

SAL LILIENTHAL

REVOLUTIONARY BATTLES

Experience America's Roads to Independence

25 Battlefield Tours connecting Hundreds of Revolutionary War Sites from Quebec, Canada to Savannah, Georgia.

The Travel Guide includes:

- Washington - Rochambeau National Historic Trail
- Over Mountain Victory National Historic Trail
- Knox Cannon Trail

Battle of Camden, Saratoga, Valcour Island, King's Mountain, Quebec, so many crucial battles I had never heard of marked on map after map. Seth Warner, Francis Marion, Andrew Pickens, Sybil Ludington, so many people who had given so much and yet complete strangers to me and most Americans. The more history I read the more I registered just how dire the situation was for the American colonists. From August 1776 to December 1776 the British crushed them again and again. By the winter, most of the enlisted soldiers' term of service would be up by January, so, literally, with just days to spare, General Washington decided to launch that offensive against the Hessians. - Excerpt from the Introduction

Revolutionary Battles author, Bicycle Tour Company Owner, U.S. Congressional Candidate CT-5 Sal Lienthal at General Wooster's Memorial Danbury, Connecticut.

$19.95 U.S.

Connecticut
still revolutionary

Link to Sal's Revolutionary Connecticut on-line tour book at www.CTAmericanRevolution.com

Co-Authoring with Central Connecticut State University Professor Mary Collins

Contact:

Explore@RevolutionaryBattles.com

or

860-309-1449